About Teijin Group

The Teijin Group celebrated its 100th anniversary in 2018, and is now taking a new step into its next century. Since the establishment in 1918 as Japan's first rayon manufacturer, the Teijin Group has ceaselessly transformed and grown into a unique enterprise that combines three different business domains of materials, healthcare and IT. Guided by our underlying corporate philosophy and while keeping our promise to stakeholders expressed as our brand statement "Human Chemistry, Human Solutions" we are aiming to be a company that supports the society of the future.

With the evolution of technology, future society will transform with unprecedented speed. As a company that thinks about chemistry and also puts people first in our thinking, we seek to anticipate this change and become an innovator that goes beyond chemistry based on substances and materials, but also provides solutions that encourage the evolution of society. To accomplish this, we are adopting a business portfolio that leverages the technology and know-how of our existing business, while also demonstrating new strengths through their integration. We will transform into a company based on the two pillars of the materials business field and healthcare business field supported by a base of ICT technology, and aim for sustainable growth centered around highly profitable new business.

A spirit of venture has been strongly rooted in the DNA of the Teijin Group ever since our founding 100 years ago, and we have grown by repeatedly undertaking corporate reform. We are working towards our future vision by pursuing ceaseless evolution and ambition, and striving to enhance the quality of life everywhere by steadily creating new value as we empower our people.

Overview of the Teijin Scholarship Foundation

Teijin Ltd. Founder.
Seita Kumura
(1880-1951)

The Teijin Kumura Scholarship system was started to commemorate the 35th anniversary of Teijin Limited's founding in 1953 and to honor the achievements of Seita Kumura, who established rayon manufacturing technology in its own right and is known as the "father of the Japanese rayon industry". The purpose of this Scholarship system is to cultivate young engineers and scientists who would succeed to and develop Mr. Kumura's spirit of creative R&D and contribute to the development of our nation and society and the creation of culture. In July 1954, the company established the foundation "the Teijin Scholarship Foundation" for the scholarship system in order for the further development of the system. With its transition to public Interest Incorporated Foundation, it has been accredited by Prime Minister in October 2011. The essential spirit that has permeated the system since its establishment has not changed. The system is not run for the sake of one company and takes as its central aim the cultivation of the human resources that will be responsible for the development of national society.

Because of this aim, recipients of scholarship loans are excused from repayment if they are involved in research at a university or public laboratory after graduation. In addition, scholarship loans are recognized if an applicant has done well at school, irrespective of economic conditions, etc., in order to cultivate the researchers who will be responsible for the science and technology of the future. Furthermore, since its founding, this system has never set mandatory restraints and has firmly maintained the essential qualities of the foundation. Until this point, about 1,600 people have been active in university research organizations and private companies.

1. History

June 1953

Teijin Limited established an educational scholarship system as a project to commemorate the 35th anniversary of the establishment of the company.

July 1954

The Education Minister permitted Teijin Limited to establish the Teijin Scholarship Foundation. The foundation continues to the present day.

October 2011

With its transition to public Interest Incorporated Foundation, it has been accredited by Prime Minister.

2. Aim

The foundation aims to cultivate human resources who will become aware of their mission as scientists and engineers and be responsible for the development of our nation and society and the creation of culture.

3. The Origins of the Names "Teijin Kumura Scholarship" and "Teijin Kumura Scholar"

The scholarship awarded by the foundation was named the "Kumura Scholarship" and the recipients of the scholarship "Kumura Scholars" in order to honor the achievements of Seita Kumura, who was the first person in Japan to establish rayon manufacturing technology and subsequently built the foundations for the development of the rayon industry, and to communicate those achievements eternally to later generations. To mark the 50th anniversary of this scholarship system, they have been renamed the "Teijin Kumura Scholarship" and "Teijin Kumura Scholars" respectively.

4. Project Details

Teijin Kumura Scholarship loans are awarded to graduate school students in technology-related disciplines.

"Young people go overseas!"

~ Message from a Nobel Prize Laureate in Chemistry (2010) Dr. Ei-ichi Negishi ~

When I joined Teijin in 1958, Shinzo Oya the president at that time told, "Young people must go overseas. You will be able to speak three languages in 30 years, if you learn one language in 10 years. Then you will become world-class talent." The starting point that I was able to walk on such a way is in the word of President Oya.

In the field of chemistry, the competition is worldwide, and our playground has extended across the world. Now, you have to look for the professor from the world and aim for the top in the worldwide competition. For the young people like you, I suggest you to go overseas aggressively.

When you find your own "Dream", please challenge it thoroughly until the truth is investigated. I look forward to your great success in the future.
